Snap-on Must Have Tool: 18-Volt Cordless Grease Gun

KENOSHA, Wis. – June 16, 2011 – Heavy duty performance in all conditions is a must for professional service technicians. Snap-on's 18-volt cordless grease gun (CGG4850) is a must-have tool if you want to increase your productivity and efficiency on the most challenging jobs.

"The Snap-on 18-volt cordless grease gun meets the demands of our professional customers, providing the performance and power needed with less down time and longer tool life," said Rodger Isetts, product manager for Snap-on. "The CGG4850 is extremely durable. It's easy to use and will work in the most extreme conditions, when you need it to perform."

The Snap-on 18-volt cordless grease gun (CGG4850) features:

- Flexible in cold weather, 7500 PSI hose operates at minus five degrees.
- High-impact nylon housing has durable high-impact strength, giving it longer tool life.
- Bulk or cartridge compatible refill is more versatile, eliminating down time.
- Over-molded comfort cushion trigger has a soft touch with precise control for less finger stress and strain.
- All-steel slide crank mechanism has fewer parts and greater durability, leading to less down time.
- All-steel gear box is more durable than competitors' plastic gear tools, which results in longer tool life.
- First-stage planetary gearing and second-stage steel spur gearing means less wear and stripping of gears for greater performance and longer tool life.
- Two 18-volt 2.4 AHr slide on battery eliminates charging down time; also runs on Snap-on's CTB4145 14.4 volt 2.4Ah battery.
- Pump housing pressure tested to 20,000 PSI; works under extreme conditions and handles heavy duty applications.

The Snap-on 18-volt cordless grease gun set also includes two 18-volt batteries, a charger and a plastic storage case. In addition, the Snap-on mobile charger (CTC628) and light (CTLED4918) are available accessories for use with the CGG4850.
