Upcoming Car-O-Liner Training Events Featured in New Online Calendar

Wixom, MI – June 21, 2022 – Car-O-Liner® has added an online events calendar to its website as a helpful resource for customers looking to register for upcoming training events.

The events calendar features on-site training opportunities that cover meaningful subjects and focus on how to best maximize the use of Car-O-Liner tools and equipment. Upcoming Car-O-Liner training events include:

- July 11-12 – Bench & Measuring – Mahwah, New Jersey
- July 12 – Electronic Measuring – Signal Hill, California
- July 12 – Basic Resistance Welding – Signal Hill, California

Currently, the online calendar features training events scheduled through December 2022. New events will be added as they are confirmed, so those interested in attending should check back often.

To view a full list of Car-O-Liner training courses available in the U.S. and Canada and apply online, visit car-o-liner.com/academy-courses/.

“Whether you are just starting out or a seasoned veteran, Car-O-Liner training courses will help ensure you are getting the most from your Car-O-Liner equipment,” said Tim Garner, market development manager for Car-O-Liner.
