Snap-on Sponsored Brad Keselowski Wins Third Nationwide Race of Season

Penske Racing's Will Power Takes Over IRL Points Lead

KENOSHA, Wis. – September 20, 2011 – It was a big weekend for Snap-on sponsored Penske Racing drivers. In the Nationwide series, Brad Keselowski captured the Dollar General 300 on Sept. 17 at Chicagoland Speedway while Will Power finished second at the Indy Japan 300 on that same day to move into first place in the IRL season point standings with two races remaining. With his finish in Japan, Power was also awarded the “Mario Andretti Road Trophy” given to the IRL driver whose points production is highest on the 10 road/street courses during the season. It was the second straight year that Power has won the trophy.

“What another great race for Brad Keselowski and the Penske Racing team,” said Kai Kazarian, manager of sales communications for Snap-on Tools. “Brad has done phenomenally well in the last two months in both NASCAR series with two wins, a second and a third in the last six Sprint Cup races and three wins in the last seven Nationwide races. We also want to congratulate Will Power on taking back the IRL points lead and being in great shape for the season championship with only two races left.”

Snap-on's Nationwide drivers are off until Oct. 1 when they race at Dover (Del.) International Raceway. Snap-on's Sprint Cup drivers will be in New Hampshire this weekend when they participate in the Sylvania 300 on Sept. 25.

The IRL's next-to-last race is set for Oct. 2 when the Penske Racing team drivers will compete in the Indy 300 at the Kentucky Speedway.

Cruz Pedregon and the Snap-on Funny Car team will head to Texas for the NHRA Texas Fall Nationals this weekend, Sept. 22-25, at the Texas Motorplex. Pedregon is fourth in the Funny Car point standings with five races remaining.
