Snap-on's New 3/8" Micro Cordless Impact Wrench Provides Power and Speed in a Small Package

KENOSHA, Wis., March 1, 2010 – Snap-on's new 3/8" Micro Cordless Impact Wrench (CT561) provides power and speed in a small package, delivering up to 50 ft lbs of max torque output while delivering 2500 RPM's and 3,000 blows per minute to get the job done quicker.

"The wrench weighs only 1.8 lbs, so positioning the tool is easy. It's ideal for a variety of restricted access applications under the hood, in the cabin or under the vehicle because it fits into places that other cordless impact wrenches can't," said Rodger Isetts, product manager for Snap-on.

The Micro Cordless Impact Wrench has an over-sized forward/reverse toggle style trigger that allows technicians to operate the wrench with one hand, meaning less finger stress and strain. An integrated soft grip handle provides positive tool control for less fatigue. The glass-filled nylon housing delivers durable high impact strength for longer tool life. The removable 7.2 volt battery charges quickly to eliminate down time. It uses the same battery and charger as the popular CTS561 series of cordless screwdrivers and the CTLED566 cordless LED flashlight.
