Time is Money: Open End Box Speed Wrench Set Makes Fast Work of Tough Jobs

KENOSHA, Wis. – December 3, 2012 – Saving time on repair jobs is always a goal for service technicians. The Snap-on® 10-piece Ratcheting Open End Box Wrench Set (SRXRM710) is a perfect example of a tool that will help save time, allowing techs to perform more jobs during the course of a day.

“Our ratcheting speed wrenches are manufactured to make life much easier for our customers, helping them save time so they can do more jobs and make more money,” said Brian Woller, category manager for Snap-on. “The open end design of these unique SRX wrenches features a patented speed wrenching configuration that delivers more speed and accessibility while also providing great comfort and balance.”
